

AMEDEO'S ITALIAN RESTAURANT
3905 Western Blvd.

It all started in 1954 when Pennsylvanian Amedeo 'Dick' DeAngelis, came to NC State as a football player on a scholarship. He missed his family's Italian cooking, so in 1963, he opened Amedeo's, which over the years has grown from a 12-seater to a multi-booth and table restaurant. Any true Wolfpacker, has to have dined here; soaking in the enormous collection of NC State memorabilia - new and old - lining the walls.

SCHOOLKIDS RECORDS
2237 Avent Ferry Rd. (Suite 101)

Schoolkids' Records has seen (and heard) many diverse music labels, artists and genres over its 40 years. Founded in 1973 with former sister locations in North Raleigh, Cary and Chapel Hill, NC, it is one of the longest running record stores in the country. Stephen Judge, a loyal '97 NC State graduate, is current owner of the recently-relocated store. Schoolkids' unique atmosphere leaves an overwhelmingly positive impression; music-lover or not!

MITCH'S TAVERN
2426 Hillsborough St.

Sitting at the center of Hillsborough Street, Mitch's Tavern is prime location for all things Wolfpack. With large servings at college kid prices, served fast by friendly staff, this is a lunch spot frequented by students, faculty and alumni. Come early on game day, as the place gets packed! But don't worry, there are plenty of tvs. The menu is fresh, hearty, uncomplicated and offers many vegetarian and gluten-free options. And if you're over 21, they offer an excellent selection of local craft beers.
