

Former Technician Editor-in-Chief MARK HERRING records audio for WKNC's EYE ON THE TRIANGLE. • WKNC Promotions Director SARAH HAGER chats with fans at the SHAKORI HILLS GRASSROOTS FESTIVAL in Pittsboro. • Technician managing editor TAYLOR CASHDAN edits a story on deadline. • JOSH LAWSON takes a photo on top of D.H. Hill. Photos courtesy of Pack Pix.

keeping students informed >>

STUDENT MEDIA

TECHNICIAN

TECHNICIANONLINE.COM

Every school day during the semester, and once a week during summer sessions, students can pick up a copy of the student-run newspaper, Technician, at locations around campus. First published in 1920, the newspaper keeps students up-to-date with local and campus news features, opinions and sports.

AGROMECK

NCSU.EDU/AGROMECK

First published in 1903 and the oldest publication on campus, the Agromeck yearbook serves to provide a review of each school year from the student perspective. The name honors NC State's origin as the North Carolina College of Agriculture ("Agro") and Mechanic Arts ("meck").

WKNC

WKNC.ORG

WKNC 88.1 FM is a student-run, non-commercial, educational radio station that broadcasts at 25k watts throughout central NC. Converted to an FM station on Oct. 8, 1966, the station prides itself in offering music that can't be heard anywhere else on the dial, like indie rock, metal, hip-hop and electronic.

NUBIAN MESSAGE

THENUBIANMESSAGE.COM

Printing its first issue in 1992, the voice of African-American students, the Nubian Message allows people to learn about different aspects of African-American culture. The weekly newspaper is a source of useful information for all students by reporting on appealing University events.

WINDHOVER

NCSU.EDU/WINDHOVER

Windhover represents the creativity of students, faculty, staff and alumni. Started in 1964, the magazine features everything from poetry and fiction to drawings and music. It received the highest national awards for student publications in 2004, 2007, 2008, 2009 and 2010.