

COURTNEY VAUGHN, a freshman in biological sciences, and NATHAN COMBS, a junior in mathematics, participate in the GLBT CENTER'S SOS Rally in the Brickyard.
Photo By Jonathan Millner.

it's easy to find your place

STUDENTS FIND THEIR PLACE THROUGH STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

With more than 500 clubs, activities and groups, all students can find an organization to help them connect and to grow. Getting involved gives everyone an opportunity to meet new people, make a difference in the community, gain career experience and practice leadership skills.

There are political organizations focused on policies and parties. Arts organizations provide opportunities in dance, drama, music and photography. Academic organizations focus more on education and careers. Cultural and religious groups are represented, along with club sports, service organizations and Greek Life. There are also academic and honors fraternities offered for students with high academic achievements or certain areas of study.

Students who don't find what they want in an existing club can create their own.

STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

For students already involved in a student group or campus organization, NCSU Student Involvement offers the following services to help registered organizations on campus:

- Distribute the event and solicitation permits groups may need to do activities around the campus
- Help groups register to receive various campus benefits
- Work with students to start up new organizations
- Support students as they explore their involvement at NC State
- Direct student groups on how to go about getting appropriation funds set aside by the University

The office's main objective is to assist student organizations in managing themselves.

 @NCSUGetInvolved

