

Students meeting outside Talley Student Union. Photo courtesy of Campus Enterprises.

the talley transformation

UNIVERSITY LANDMARK UNDERGOES MUCH NEEDED RENOVATIONS

Completed in 1972, Talley Student Union is named for former Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Banks C. Talley Jr. The building houses Stewart Theatre as well as offices for the Union Activities Board, the GLBT Center, the Women's Center, Multicultural Student Affairs, Greek Life, Student Government, Student Involvement, and the Center for Student Leadership, Ethics and Public Service.

Through 2015, the building will undergo major renovations funded by a student fee increase to $185 in 2011-2012, $275 in 2012-2013 and not to exceed $290 in 2013-2014. The Bookstore, Student Government and other offices from Talley are temporarily located in Harrelson Hall during these renovations. Harrelson Hall is slated for demolition once Talley Student Union renovations are complete. The fee increases will remain for at least 30 years.

In 2012, the University named the great lawn the Stafford Commons in honor of former Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs Tom H. Stafford for more than 41 years of service to NC State.

Designed by Durham firm Duda/Paine Architects, the new Talley will feature amenities including large meeting spaces, a plethora of dining options, expanded student resources and an upgraded bookstore.

Place a Talley Student Union memory here.